

NORTH PARK UNIVERSITY

School of Nursing and Health Sciences

Post-Master's Certificate: Family Nurse Practitioner

ABOUT THE FAMILY NURSE PRACTITIONER POST-MASTER'S CERTIFICATE

Nurse practitioners are in high demand to provide frontline, primary care in hospitals, community centers, schools, workplaces, clinics, and other organizational settings. As an FNP, you will work with patients of all ages and their families to respond to health needs through immediate treatment, long-term care and wellness plans.

KEY OUTCOMES

- ▶ Build on your practical experience and master's degree and be prepared to meet the growing need for advanced practice nursing.
- ▶ Advance your career and develop the skills you need to serve a wide range of populations with compassion and exceptional care.
- ▶ Be prepared to take the FNP certification exam offered through the American Nurses' Credentialing Center (ANCC) or the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners (AANP).

PROGRAM DETAILS

At the North Park University School of Nursing and Health Sciences, earning this post-master's certificate requires completion of the following:

- ▶ 15 sh of advanced practice core courses
- ▶ 25 sh of specialty courses

Total: 40 semester hours (SH), plus 675 practicum hours

FIND OUT MORE AND APPLY:

www.northpark.edu/fnp-certificate